

CALIFORNIA FACES A SHOWDOWN

Is California going red or will it remain as always, a conservative, American unit of the United States? This is the question the election in November will decide when the people vote their choice for governor. With Sinclair and Merriam running for Governor there is no middle ground to choose from. Sinclair is avowedly a radical with red, pink and radical backing from every quarter while Merriam is and always has been a conservative.

It is an election of Conservatism vs. Radicalism. It is indeed a critical time in the political history of California—a time when every person entitled to vote should vote with all the intelligence at his command.

And in this critical time the selection of the WRONG man for governor may easily wreck California for the next twenty-five years. Study the candidates and their records and promises carefully and cast your vote with fear and trembling. History is going to be made in the next few months. VOTE and VOTE RIGHT—for clean cut, conservative Americanism. It made the nation and it is the one and only thing that will permit its survival.

PRESENT ELECTION MARKS A NEW HIGH IN MUDSLINGING

The voters at Tuesday's election were just about smothered with political mud and it is pretty generally agreed that more political mud was slung in the present election than any in history. Practically every candidate was endorsed by the Reds and Sinclair and all were accused of various degrees of skulduggery and all were more or less muddy until the voter gave up in despair and voted the way his mind was made up several months ago. There was, however, entirely too much dirty politics.

MAINTAIN THE CCC CAMPS

The Civilian Conservation Camps should be made permanent institutions of the nation. Probably no other venture of the New Deal has been so completely successful and free of criticism as the CCC. It has without doubt given countless thousands of boys and young men a new grip and clearer outlook of life. The cost has been comparatively small in comparison with the accomplishments for the personnel has not only benefited but conservation work of permanent value highly essential to the growth of the nation has resulted.

In the chaotic conditions of organizing the camps it is remarkable what has been done and the prospects of what can be done, now that the CCC is really under way is still more remarkable.

A PAGEANT INDEED

At St. Helena they are reviving an old custom and giving thanks for an abundant crop of grapes which is remarkable in the fact that there are still communities that thank the All Highest for abundant crops instead of offering insult by DESTROYING that which nature gives. Times have indeed changed. We are supposed to be THANKFUL and BENEFITTED by a government wiser than nature that limits and destroys production and permits millions to go hungry and unclothed in a hopeless scheme to MAKE MORE BY PRODUCING LESS. Figure it out with some of the alphabetical puzzles offered the taxpayer if you can but it is really too much for an ordinary person.

THE ELECTION'S BIGGEST LAUGH

Whatever else we may say about Sinclair and whether we like him or not it must be admitted the man is thorough in his endorsements of political candidates and politicians, past and present. He endorsed, almost without exception every office holder and EVERY person running for office. His last statement was a hearty endorsement of President Roosevelt in a statement to the press of California when he declared himself a Democrat, a supporter of the New Deal and what have you. He also was elated over assurances from Postmaster General Farley that the administration would support him if nominated. If the nomination of Sinclair is supported by President Roosevelt and Washington this is a prediction that the administration in Washington is going to get a shock in November when the ballots are counted.

SINCLAIR AND HIS PROMISES

Sinclair, among the many other things promised, will open all abandoned and closed factories and put idle men to work. Idle farms too will be operated on his great Epic plan to end poverty in California. He fails to mention how farms that have been abandoned for lack of water are to be provided with water but perhaps there is something in the Epic plan that will open up the heavens and bring down the necessary rain. And he fails to mention how the factories are to obtain their raw materials, manufacture them in competition with foreign and domestic markets and still pay the employees a living wage. It sounds too much like lifting ourselves over the fence by our bootstraps.

SERRA PAGEANT A SUCCESS

Serra Pageant has been a successful undertaking in its first year. Not only a financial success with a substantial balance left over for restoring the Old Mission but it has probably been one of the main reasons why, weeks before the event, every cottage in Carmel was occupied and Carmel entertained the greatest number of summer visitors in history. Carmel has been advertised as never before and people have made it a point to visit Carmel who would otherwise not have included it in their vacation.

What next year's pageant will be is only conjecture, and as to who will head it and do the work and how the affair will be handled is only guess work. For this year at least we can thank the few men who produced and made possible this very memorable event. And it should not be overlooked that the few men who did most of the work and guaranteed the bills of the affair, with one or two exceptions were men who had nothing to sell and nothing to gain in any way by attendance at the pageant. These men had nothing to gain but stood the chance of actually losing since they personally were liable for all bills contracted by the pageant and what a week's steady rain would have done to receipts is appalling to consider. If any of us think we did a lot towards making the venture a success, let's forget it and take off our hats to the real workers who guaranteed is financial success with their own money and efforts.

AN ARTISTIC JUDICIAL COMMITTEE FOR MONTEREY PENINSULA

There is a movement on foot in Carmel to form an association of recognized Peninsula artists for the purpose of helping all Peninsula civic activities plan their decorations and programs along a definite standard of artistic merit. There have been too many things put on in the past, claiming to be inspired by artists that have been proven otherwise and it is the intention of those in favor of the pro-

Laughter, Fun and Frolic Scheduled for Village Fair

Never in Carmel's history has so much fun, frolic and laughter been offered for so little. A trifling admission admits you for both Friday and Saturday 4 to 12 p.m. Come in costume if you can. Join the clowns, Indians, sailors, soldiers, or come just as plain American citizens. You'll be welcome and have the time of your life. Dances, side shows, free vaudeville, contests of all kinds too numerous to mention. The following is but a partial list of the attractions at the Carmel Village Fair.

Its safe to say that everyone will take a whirl at the frisky Midway, where you may have your fortune told or witness the Sally Rand type Fan Dance. Then settle down and enjoy the several games of skill or any of the surprise shows providing fun and laughter.

There's plenty to do besides the Midway. Enjoy the music of the popular Presidio Band while seated at a table in the German Beer

Garden. Allen Knight furnishes inspiring music for the Jitney Dance. Prince Hadji Igdror Magnet of India will puzzle you with his Yoga magic. Lily Laguna, famous N.B.C. Radio soprano will sing, and Bob—relics of forgotten crimes in the Chamber of Horrors will make your blood run cold, but never fear, Billie McConnell and Marion Minges will warm it up again in "Motoring Daze of 1910."

The biggest sensation of all will be when Allen Knight buries two local girls under a ton of sand. Then there is the Beauty Contest for Girls in Shorts on the main stage, and Juan and Josefa Garcia, fresh from their recent triumphs at the Serra Fiesta, will dance again for you.

Enjoy dinner at the many food shops and browse among Mrs. Karl Rentdorff's rare and antique books. Try for the prize for the best arrangement of flowers at Mrs. John Neikirk's booth. And for the first time in Carmel there will be an exhibition of the farm products of the Valley. Millicent Sears will stage a horned toad race, also a first time event.

Plenty of fun for the children, too, for besides pink lemonade, balloons, popcorn and peanuts, Mrs. J. C. Ryland will have home made candy. They will howl with glee over the Educated Goose, the Art Grab Bag, Leota Tucker's Eccentric Photograph Gallery, the talking dog, the dwarf who will tell their fortunes, Lynn Hodges' trick pony, and there will be a chance to try their skill at the Fish Pond, enter their dog for the dog show and have a ride on Bettie Greene's riding ponies. A pedigreed Cairn Terrier will be given away by Mrs. Biddle Dorsey.

Remember registration for all events is free. Call Carmel 1001 or 774 for information. Follow the arrows at the foot of Ocean Avenue hill a short distance to the Forest Theater Grounds.

TRYING TO GIVE CREDIT

WHERE CREDIT IS DUE

Trying to give credit where credit is due is a big undertaking in connection with anything as gigantic as the recent Pageant-Fiesta. Several names have been listed, but undoubtedly some have been missed who have spent a great deal of time and thought on the success of the venture. If any are missed the Sun apologizes right now, since no one has been missed purposely.

Judging from the attendance, it will be safe to say that between $4000 and $5000 was taken in at the pageant and a great number of the visitors who helped bring in this sum were brought here through the advertising that was given the affair.

Tom Thienes, who so ably handled the advertising, was instrumental in getting pages and even sections in magazines widely distributed and the greater amount of this material was compiled by him. A page in the Sunday Chronicle a week preceding the pageant was one of the really big things accomplished. Mr. Thienes secured radio broadcasts and even stood at the microphone of KTAB himself and sent out the message of the festivities here.

Motorland was very generous with her space, the P. G. & E. bulletin told about the affair in detail; the Pacific States Telegraph and Telephone company kindly donated a lovely poster, and the Southern Pacific put out a poster and ran a Sunday excursion to Carmel at reduced rates. A communication from that company to Mr. Thienes said, "We are satisfied, if it is any satisfaction to you to know that." The letter also explained that a heavy storm that morning in San Francisco kept a great many at home who were planning to come.

A story and pictures of the mission were printed in a bulletin ject to have the committee of artists act as a sort of a vigilante committee to see that the artistic reputation of Carmel and the Peninsula is not exploited for the sole purpose of profits.

The Monterey Peninsula has a great many resident artists who are well qualified to help in the various enterprises and it is hoped by those fostering the plan something can be worked out that will maintain a high artistic standard for everything on the Peninsula.

A scheme of decorations in particular might be worked out that would have the two fold purpose of beautifying any community enterprise and would at the same time encourage and give publicity to the work of Carmel artists.

The Music Society is certainly an artistic enterprise and it would be a fine thing to display at the Society's concerts pictures by local artists. The same idea could be incorporated at the community plays and in street decorations by the use of large posters painted for the occasion.

The Del Monte hotel is doing this in their Bag Masque and prizes were awarded to several entrants for their poster that brought out some excellent decorations. The idea is in keeping with the traditions of the Peninsula and some practical plan of benefit to all concerned can doubtless be worked out.

which was distributed to 25,000 passengers on the Golden Gate ferries.

News stories were carried in the dailies and weeklies and practically all who were asked to cooperate did so with willingness.

Special credit goes to Tom Thienes, J. L. Cockburn, Fr. O'Connell, Frank Sheridan, Barnet Segal, George Marion, Frederick Burt, D. L. Stanford, Harry Dennis and A. T. Shand, all of Carmel, and to William Crabbe of Monterey.

To the cities of Monterey and Pacific Grove many thanks are due for cooperation. The organizations of the peninsula are in line for praise. To all anywhere, who have helped, the Sun for the committees extends thanks.

RODEO SUNSETS WERE

DELIGHT TO GUESTS

One of the interesting things to entertain the visitors to Carmel during the Pageant days was the "Rodeo Sunsets" each evening from five to six, on Ocean avenue, at the San Carlos intersection.

Songs and dances, interwoven into a simple love story comprised the program, prepared and presented by Myrtle Gilbert Hoffman, poet-musician and song writer, who recently came to Carmel to make her home.

Band music and orchestra music and many dance numbers were also presented on the free program daily.

NOTICE TO VISITORS

If you want to join in the festivities and be a "Carmelite" while you are here, phone Mrs. Lita Ba then at 774 and make her heart glad by offering to assist in the village fair Friday and Saturday this week. A few places are open and your services will be appreciated.

EDWARD WILLETT BURNS

SAYS WOMEN TO BLAME

An article has been written by Edward Willett Burns in which he dissects the publication of insidious propaganda in the women's magazines, handed out as pleasant, entertaining reading. The editors pass it on as being well expressed and of keen interest.

MORE HUE AND CRY

The Carmel Sun deserves favorable mention for expressing itself in such a straightforward manner regarding Communist Propaganda appearing in magazines of national scope that have heretofore been regarded as pillars of Americanism.

It is hard to believe that a magazine of a reputation as high as that which the Woman Home Companion has enjoyed would print the work, (without proper label), of any writer who has a past record of so deep a "Red" as has Langston Hughes.

The strangest part of the affair is, that Langston Hughes is not as much to blame as the Woman's Home Companion. That the Woman's Home Companion is not as much to blame as that other, far more potent culprit. WHO? AMERICAN WOMEN? CERTAINLY!

Under Soviet Rule any writing bearing even the suspicion of a tinge of advocacy for the overthrow of Sovietism is not printed. More than that. To the audacious writer swift and merciless punishment is meted out. WHY? Communism has recognized the power of the written and printed word and has taken full cognizance of the million and one ways in which doctrines offensive to its purpose and existence may be introduced, with disarming subtlety, into a harmless appearing article or story.

Langston Hughes is a tireless and violent advocate for Soviet Rule, for Communism, in this country. Unfortunately he can not be banished from print. Does that mean he has to be read? Of course not!

No doubt but that The Woman's Home Companion commissioned Langston Hughes to write so many words, for so much money, to be ready for release on such and such a date. Being a women's magazine, no doubt but that Langston Hughes was asked to write something concerning the condition of Russian Women of today in comparison with, say, fifteen years ago. He has been an honored guest in the land of the Sickle and the Hammer and his story is simply a highly fictionalized account of something that was fed to him by the Master Propagandists of Communism. He is not to be blamed

COUNCIL CHANGE PLAN:

DECIDE ONE LOCATION

Due to the fact that should the voters be given choice of two locations for the new city hall, complete plans for the building would have to be drawn up by the associated architects of the peninsula, and that there was not sufficient time for this, it was decided by the city council to submit to the voters the proposition to locate the hall on the west fifty feet of the city park.

A resolution was passed giving Mayor Thoburn the authority to sign papers necessary for the agreement. According to the plans, the structure may be erected at a cost of $40,000. Of this amount the government has offered a free gift of 30 per cent of the cost of material and labor.

Plans call for a hacienda type of building, the south end lower than the rest, to contain the offices. The central portion higher, housing the council and court room. Between these and the north end will run a corridor and the north end section will be two stories, the fire apparatus to be on the ground floor and club rooms above. This section will also provide for the police department and for rooms to care for three prisoners over night.

The fire department entrance would be on Sixth street.

In front a veranda will be built the entire length of the building.

If there are objections to the erection of the new city hall, they will have to come from the point of location and not from the point of taxes. Careful study and accounting show that if the city buys no additional land, the cost to the taxpayer will not exceed the present rate and may perhaps be slightly lower.

Sand dune bonds will be retired at about the time payments on government bonds will begin. Adding the sand dune bonds, the rents on the fire house and the present city hall, the amount obtained is sufficient to care for the payment on the city hall bonds, which are not expected to be for more than $30,000.

ELECTION OVER, MOSTLY

INCUMBENTS RETURNED

The primaries are over. Feeling toward the last ran high and some dirty mud slinging was done.

The county ticket saw mostly the return of incumbents to their positions, Abbott, sheriff; Cozens, surveyor; Cornett, coroner; and Force, county superintendent of schools, being elected at the primaries.

The race between the four candidates for district attorney will have to be carried into the November election, since Noland, incumbent, failed to receive more than half the total votes cast. His opponent will be Anthony Brazil of Pacific Grove, who defeated Theile by 153 votes.

For treasurer, Giles of Pacific Grove was in the lead, his opponent for the November election being Steinbeck, incumbent. Leidig, third candidate, made an excellent race in Carmel.

With nine men in the race for constable, all have been eliminated except Kinloch and Oyer who will compete in November.

McGrath, incumbent, received the nomination for congressman on both tickets.

At the time of going to press the Sun had not definite figures as to the contest between Bardin and Patterson for assemblyman, but Bardin, however, was leading in this county.

Sinclair and Merriam, on the Democratic and Republican tickets with Raymond Haight on the Progressive will battle for the governorship in November.

Attorney General Webb had a walkaway from his opponents, he being a candidate on both tickets. Kersey was an easy winner for state superintendent of public instruction.

Hatfield led in the Republican ticket for lieutenant governor and Downey is the Democratic choice.

SERRA LIVED AGAIN

AT HIS BELOVED CHURCH

Serra lived again! In convincing pageantry Father Junipero Serra and his coworkers came to life at the old Mission last Friday with the first performance of "The Apostle of California" written and directed by George Marion, veteran producer and actor, who also took the leading role of Serra himself.

The pageant depicted the history of Serra from the time he landed at the mission and planted the cross until he was nearing the end, and insisted on going to the church from which came the voices of the choir, and from which he came forth, supported by his close friends, and retired to his cell, followed by the tolling of the bells announcing his death.

His gradual upbuilding of the faith, the erection of the mission, the winning of the Indians, the rejoicing when a way was found to traverse the desert, all were shown in a dramatic way.

Leading parts, other than the role of Serra were taken by Frank Sheridan as oracle, whose spectacular appearance in a flood light in the belfry was so impressive; Frederick Burt as the tribal chief; Helen Ware as queen of the Amazons; Sybil Leonard as Maria; Robert Bratt as Crespi; and Lloyd Weer as De Anza.

Spanish dancers were under the direction of June Delight, who gave a lovely solo number at the fiesta celebrating the finding of the desert route. While June Delight has lived in Carmel for the past year, this was the first occasion of her appearance before such a large crowd here and all were delighted with her work and will look forward to seeing her often.

Indian dances were under the direction of Sarah Lee Kopp, who also delighted with a solo which was enthusiastically received.

Marion Minges and Henry Morales delighted with their interpretation of the dagger dance which gave Miss Minges an opportunity to show her artistry in this line. While Miss Maron's dancing is well known to the peninsula, her role as an Indian dancer was so completely new that many of her closest friends failed to recognize her.

Arthur Gunderson as director, assisted by Fenton Foster, was responsible for the music which was so appropriate for the different acts.

The lighting effects by Clay Otto were highly spoken of.

Although these names stand out in the production, without the excellent cooperation of the entire ensemble the whole pageant would have been a failure instead of the grand success it was. To each and every one then who took part to make a harmonious whole, let tribute be given.

Carmel can be justly proud of its first pageant, and rest in the knowledge that next year will be even better, with the experience gained through this year's production.

PARADE SUNDAY WAS

MOST EXCELLENT ONE

Cooperation under able leadership is responsible for the high quality of the parade which was one of the successful events of pageant week.

Brilliant costumes, some beautiful, some humorous, prancing horses with lovely riders, exhort, pioneers, Indians, the 11 Cavalry band, dressed as Spanish dons, the American Legion drum corps in full uniform, Spanish monks and soldiers, representatives of the Peninsula Junior chamber of commerce, the covered wagon and miscellaneous groups combined to form a parade that made Carmel citizens proud.

W. J. Crabbe was in charge of the parade and he spent many hours in its planning. It was well handled and carried out in an excellent manner.

What a world! The jobless get less relief because men on strike must be fed at public expense, too, spend.

CARL MOLL AND

GRACE V. BELL WED

Carl Moll and Grace V. Bell of this city secured license to wed, according to news coming from Reno, Nevada.

Mr. Moll and his bride are both well known in Carmel, where they have resided for some time. Mr. Moll came into prominence when he was manager for the Community Players and Mrs. Moll is a nurse of high standing.

Best wishes of the community are with the newlyweds.

CANSINO AND deARAGON

ACCLAIMED FAVORITES

Carmel people are enthusiastic over the program presented by the Denny-Watrous gallery during recent days.

Jose Cansino and Tonia de Aragon, Spanish dancers, more than delighted their audience with their artistry. Personality and ability were combined in this couple and their selection of dances presented the different moods of their people.

LIVELY SPANISH COMEDY

WINS MUCH APPLAUSE

One of the most interesting programs offered to the visitors during recent time was that of the comedy, "The Women Have Their Way" put on by the Golden Bough Players at the Playhouse.

The story deals with a young man who through gossip and insinuations found himself engaged to a charming young woman, whom he scarcely knew.

Edward Kuster, director, also took the part of the priest, Don Julian, and of course was superb in his characterization. As Concha Puerto, whose tongue was tied in the middle, Barbara Collins never failed to bring laughs. Mildred Gillingham as Santita, deaf but not dumb, carried her part exceptionally well. Tommy Tucker again demonstrated his ability at acting and William Lingley as the young man from Madrid, did his part convincingly.

Billie McConnell as the little servant girl, did a lovely bit of a dance in her role, which was quite charming.

Frances Baker, Onyet Watson and Mary Liles enacted their roles prettily, while Vivien Place vividly portrayed the village girl. Frank Heffling as the doctor, Charles Kilian as the rejected lover, Marie Gordon as Dona Belen and Ross Kiester as the Sacristan are all deserving of special mention.

The setting, made by William Gaskin, was lovely in its effect. The costumes were lovely and added to the charm of the play.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Whosoever believeth that Jesus is the Christ born of God: and every one that loveth him that begat loveth him also that is begotten of him." These words from I John comprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Christ Jesus." Included among the Scriptural selections will be: "Then came the Jews round about him, and said unto him, How long dost thou make us to doubt? If thou be the Christ, tell us plainly. Jesus answered them, I told you, and ye believed not: the works that I do in my Father's name, they bear witness of me" (John 10:24,25).

The following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "Christ Truth, was demonstrated through Jesus to prove the power of Spirit over the flesh—to show that Truth is made manifest by its effects upon the human mind and body, healing sickness and destroying sin. Jesus represented Christ, the true idea of God" (p. 316).

TEACHERS ASSIGNED

FOR YEAR'S DUTIES

Sunset School opens Tuesday, September 4th. Parents who are entering their children for the first time are requested to accompany their children to school so that the teachers may obtain certain necessary data in regard to each child. Children four years and six months of age may enter the kindergarten class. Children must be five years and nine months to enter the first grade. The children must have reached the above mentioned ages on or before the day of entry.

The recent resignation of Miss Marian Ohm due to illness has necessitated the selection of a teacher to fill the vacancy created in the primary grades. Miss Ohm has rendered several years of faithful and valuable service to the Sunset School and the faculty and her many friends in the community hope for her speedy recovery.

Miss Ohm will be leaving a year's leave of absence and Mrs. Ozzell has been engaged by the trustees to act as her substitute.

Mrs. Anna Kohner returned Tuesday from Santa Clara. Mrs. Lilly Trowbridge has spent the summer in Carmel. Mrs. Edna Lockwood vacationed on the Lockwood farm on Clear Lake. Mrs. Bernita Ninneman has divided her time between Sacramento and Oakland. Mrs. Frances Farley aside from trips to Yosemite and Berkeley has remained in Carmel. Miss Althea Kendall and Miss Anna Marie Baer report a glorious vacation spent in Ojai. Mrs. Frances Johnson has resided with her parents in San Jose this summer. Mr. R. J. Gale reports a very interesting and enjoyable visit to Mexico City. Miss Madeline Currey has toured California, Oregon, and Washington this summer but feels that Carmel is the finest spot.

Miss Blanche Heninger, teacher of the department of Domestic Science which will open this fall, has toured Oregon and Washington accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Heninger. Miss Eleanor Smith has spent the major part of the summer in Carmel. Mrs. Sarah Rinehart has been employed as playground instructor in Salinas during the summer months. Mr. Ernest Calley took his son Douglas on a tour of the northeast portion of California. Mr. O. W. Bardarson aside from a short trip to Seattle has been in Carmel this summer. The members of the faculty look forward to the coming school year and much of interest is in store for the boys and girls of Carmel when they return to their classes.

The following assignments have been made:

Kindergarten—Anne Kohner.
First grade—Lilly C. Trowbridge.
Second grade—Edna C. Lockwood.
Third grade—Bernita Ninneman.
Fourth grade—Frances Farley.
Fifth grade—Althea Kendall.
Sixth grade—Frances Johnson.
Seventh grade—Anna Marie Baer.
Eighth grade—R. J. Gale.
Nature Study—Elinor Smith.
Domestic Science—Blanche Heninger.
Music—Madeline M. Currey.
Departmental—Sarah Rinehart.
Shop—Ernest R. Calley.
Principal—O. W. Bardarson.

VALLEY PEARS ARE

RIPE FOR HARVEST

The fruit of the beautiful pear orchards in Carmel Valley is now ready for the market and shipments will begin next Monday according to B. H. Schulte, manager of the Carmel Valley Fruit Growers' association.

Carmel Valley fruits and vegetables are of higher grade and finer taste and bring highest market prices.

It is expected that close to 50,000 boxes of pears will be marketed this year, or around 100 cars. Only the finest pears, however, are shipped, the lower grade being sold for home consumption.

FRANCES BELL, HERBERT

McGUCKIN TO MARRY

Announcement has been made of the coming marriage of Mrs. Frances Bell and Herbert McGuckin, the date having been set for September 24, when the ceremony will be performed in the Del Monte chapel by the Rev. Ernest J. Bradley.

Mrs. Bell is the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Benson of Hatton Fields, and a sister of Mrs. Harry Hilbert, who was a bride last year. She is a graduate of Monterey High and has hosts of friends.

Mr. McGuckin is a popular young man employed at the Dolores Grocery, and is also a graduate of Monterey High.

Mr. McGuckin has leased the La Plante residence in Carmel Woods to which he will take his bride after a three weeks' honeymoon which they plan to spend in the southern part of the state and in the Sierra.

TRAFFIC RULES GET

MORE INTO TROUBLE

Charles Buttermore was arrested after a collision at San Carlos and Eighth and charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. The date of preliminary hearing has not been set.

Thomas Tooker of Berkeley was arrested the 20th for driving without due caution. He appeared the 24th, pleaded guilty and was fined $5.

Norman E. Steward, arrested the 22nd for turning in the middle of the block, appeared before Judge Wood the 23rd. He pleaded not guilty and was dismissed with a lecture.

W. D. Edwards of San Jose, cited the 23rd for speeding, was fined $10 the 28th when he appeared before Judge Wood.

Lory Prentiss of Escalon was cited the 25th for ignoring a stop sign.

Ab Jenkins praises Firestone tires in toughest endurance run he ever made.

Lake Bonneville, Utah
Aug. 15th, 1934

Mr. Harvey A. Firestone, Chairman,
Firestone Tire & Rubber Company,
Akron, Ohio

Dear Mr. Firestone:

Under A.A.A. supervision, I have just completed a 3,000-mile run on the hot salt desert at Lake Bonneville, Utah, averaging 127.2 miles per hour, breaking 77 Speed Records—without any tire trouble. Firestone tires gave an almost unbelievable performance, with temperatures as high as 120 degrees.

Last year I made a similar run with a car of less power and speed using tires of another make whose national advertising featured blowout protection. Yet, I had a blowout and made a number of tire changes.

This year I also used Firestone Spark Plugs and a Firestone Extra Power Battery with your new All-Rubber Separator. Not a Spark Plug failed and the battery required no service of any kind.

If every car owner knew what my Firestone tires were through they would appreciate what Gun-Dipping means in strength and heat protection. That's why Firestone tires are safe from blowouts. This is the toughest run I have ever made in my 25 years of breaking speed records.

Sincerely yours,
Ab Jenkins

THE OUTSTANDING VALUE IN THE LOW-PRICED TIRE

Dear Mr. Firestone:

I have just finished a 3,000-mile test at Lake Bonneville, Utah, driving a stock car of a leading manufacturer, equipped with tires which cut as the greatest development in tire construction. I had eleven tire failures and made two precautionary tire changes.

When a right front tire blew out, I was unable to get the car under control for a quarter of a mile, leaving a trail of rubber and fabric on the hot salt beds.

After this experience, I appreciate what a vital part Firestone Gun-Dipped tires have played in my success during the racing and personal cars. Without them I know I could never have made the many speed records I have established.

Very truly yours,
Lester Shaw

FOREST HILL SCHOOL

TEACHERS ARE HERE

With Mrs. Unander in charge and Mrs. Betty Allen and Miss Dorner of Portland assisting, the Forest Hill school will open September 10. Mrs. Etta Porter will also be connected with the school this year. Mrs. Porter, it will be remembered, is the lady who on her first attempt made a beautiful clay model of a sitting figure, which received such favorable comment from artists. Mrs. Porter will continue her work in the Sunset pottery classes this year.

Mrs. Harper, who has been ill, is still in San Francisco but plans to return to Carmel this winter.

Miss Beverly Wright left Sunday for Palo Alto after a visit with her aunt, Mrs. J. L. Schroeder. Miss Wright who has been a pupil at the Max Reinhardt school in Paris, will probably assist in the Reinhardt production of "Midsummer Night's Dream" which will be shown in Hollywood, San Francisco and Berkeley, and for which reservations are already being made.

Miss Bertha M. Guichard and William Guichard of Santa Cruz were guests of Mrs. McGarraugh over the week end and Miss Guichard marched in the parade as an Indian. Many of Mrs. McGarraugh's friends mistook Miss Guichard for her sister.

Mrs. Gilson with her son, Jimmy, of Santa Cruz, was a week-end guest of her sister, Mrs. J. M. McGrury.

Fr. A. R. Munro from Boulder Creek arrived in Carmel Monday to assist in Pontifical Mass at the Old Mission Tuesday.

IN THE LITTLE GARDEN IF YOU DESIRE

Others Greatly Changed

It seems almost inconceivable that we simply do not know certain forms of disease which only a relatively short time ago were frequently observed, says a writer in the Illustrated Zeitung, Leipzig.

Thus, for example, the "sweating sickness" was intimately described in medical works only a hundred years ago as a common disease. To all appearances, it was contagious and involved excessive perspiration. Nowadays, however, we can make nothing of these very detailed and thorough descriptions. The disease has become extinct.

Chlorosis, which until the war was an extremely frequent disease of young girls, is now practically never seen. Physicians are at a loss how to explain this. Is it due to sports, or to the great amount of outdoor life that the present generation enjoys, or are internal secretory influences to be taken into account? Only hypotheses may be assumed to explain this strange fact.

Of greatest interest also are the changes which prevalent forms of disease undergo in the course of a few decades. Thus, all older physicians agree that nowadays acute articular rheumatism takes a different course from what it did at the end of the last century.

Only to a limited extent may such changes in a form of disease be traced to different methods of treatment. For instance, the treatment of scarlet fever has changed but little, and yet the illness is much milder than in earlier decades.

Structure Begun in 1663

Erected in Twenty Years

It was in 1663 that the Shah actually started to build the Taj Mahal at Agra, India, but his dreams and plans for it had been growing through every year since his wife's death. He had a wooden model of the Taj made and when he had satisfied himself as regards the perfection of style and beauty he sent for the most renowned workmen from distant lands. And tradition has it that 20,000 workmen worked for 20 years to build it.

The Taj Mahal when finished stood 213 1/2 feet high, in a great park enclosed with a red wall. A marble water course lined with fine carvings leads up to the building itself, which is perhaps the most perfect embodiment of feminine personality in the world. Its grace and purity of line symbolize Indian womanhood at its noblest. There is no suggestion of the rugged grandeur that befits a man's burial place; only the delicacy and softness that are supposed to be special womanly attributes.

The whole of the interior, as well as the exterior friezes, are inlaid with precious stones. The central tomb in which the lovely Mumtaz lies is surrounded by a screen of thin, transparent white marble, carved with designs of the greatest intricacy and framed with garlands of tiny fuchsias, tulips, and everlasting flowers, gleaming with topaz, turquoise, porphyry and lapis lazuli. —Kansas City Star.

Sex Laws in Savage Lands

Among the Hechuanas the men plow, and it is tabu for a woman to touch the cattle. The women of old Nicaragua had the monopoly of shopping; if a man interfered he was thrashed. The Eskimos consider it a scandalous thing for a man to interfere with or perform work belonging to women. The segregation of the sexes goes so far in many cases that each sex has practically a different language. According to the Zulu Lionpa laws a woman may not call her husband by his name. She must say "father of so and so." She may not use words similar to the name; consequently the women have invented synonyms. The Caribs have two distinct vocabularies—one used by men and by women when speaking to each other, and by men when repeating some saying of the women.

Latitude and Longitude

The Coast and Geodetic survey says that the so-called short methods in navigation originated with the method of Marc St. Hilaire, in which the usual altitude (angle between horizon and heavenly body) is observed and the altitude that would then obtain at an assumed position is calculated by a simple formula; the difference between the observed and calculated altitudes is a direct measure of the distance between the true line of position and the assumed position. There is no longer any question among leading navigators that the principle employed in the St. Hilaire method and its modifications has greatly simplified the subject of navigation.

Live on Bottom of Sea

For many years it was believed that no plant life could exist on the bottom of the sea because of the apparent absence of light. Scientists on the Atlantic found that ultraviolet rays penetrate the depths even where no visible light is evident. Certain forms of marine life, such as plankton and diatoms, thus are able to thrive at immense depths. The scientists also found that various creatures which resemble crabs and shrimps live on the bottom of the sea, feeding on organic ooze.

Too Much for Granted

One of Europe's greatest errors today is that each nation claims for itself a cultured unity and self-sufficiency that it does not possess. Each regards its share in the European tradition as an original achievement that owes nothing to the rest, and takes no heed of the common foundation in which its own individual tradition is rooted. —Exchange.

Herod the Great

The Herod reigning as king of Judea at the time of the birth of Christ, and the author of the order for the slaying of the children of Jerusalem, was known as Herod the Great. The Herod of the trial of Christ was the son of Herod the Great, and reigned as Tetrarch of Galilee from A. D. 4 to 39 A. D.

"Easterling"

Sterling is a contraction of "Easterling." In the Twelfth century there flourished in Germany the Hanseatic league, comprising certain free towns. These towns issued money of their own, and in trading with English merchants, gave their silver coins for British cattle, sheep and grain.

Makes Climbing Easy

The Matterhorn, Switzerland, noted for its steepness and only first ascended in 1865, today has ropes and iron railings fixed at the most difficult points, so that climbers with no previous mountaineering skill or experience can get to the top without any great trouble.

"Pen Mightier Than Sword"

The line "The pen is mightier than the sword" occurs in Act 3, Scene 2, of Ibsen's play "Hedda Gabler," but a similar sentiment, "The pen worse than the sword," is much earlier, appearing in Burton's "Anatomy of Melancholy," written early in the Seventeenth century.

P. W. A. WORKER

HERE FOR INSPECTION

OF ARTISTS' MURALS

"I have just visited the old customs house in Monterey, where I saw the murals made by the Monterey Peninsula artists, and I was much impressed by their quality and beauty," said Miss Ann Craton, field coordinator for the public works of art program headquarters in the treasury department in Washington, in an interview with a Sun representative at the Carmel Art Gallery Saturday afternoon.

Miss Craton has been on a field trip for more than three months checking up and reporting on the artists' work recently done under the Public Works of Art department and from here will go to Los Angeles, then on to Santa Fe, New Mexico to visit the art colony there.

"Through these murals in the customs house, appropriate to the industries here, the children will learn of California's resources and these pictures will in time become as valuable as the older exhibitions," continued Miss Craton.

The plan throughout the country has been to have the regional industries painted, according to Miss Craton, who commented with great enthusiasm on the scenes showing the artichoke fields, the agriculture, fishing, mining, herding and the redwoods now on exhibition. These charming works of art were done by Henrietta Shore, James Fitzgerald, August Gay, William Irwin, Burton Boudney and Evelyn McCormick.

On account of the size of the panels, the originals were not sent to Washington but photographs have been taken and sent to Washington. A number of them have been reproduced in the papers in the East.

When Miss Craton remarked that the work of Carmel artists "ranked favorably with that of San Francisco, Berkeley, Seattle and Portland," her audience of five took exception so that she had to change her comparison to "outstanding work of the artists in the United States." Carmel artists, she was informed, are internationally known and do not "compare" with other artists, but others "compare" with Carmel artists.

After the question had been settled, Miss Craton stated that the easel paintings of the six artists named and of Mrs. Gene McCommas, and Miss Charlton Fortune are now in Washington in the various government buildings.

WHAT, NO BAKERY?

Carmel Sun last week ran what the editors thought was a list of the Carmel businesses. That list was incomplete, however, since not a single solitary bakery was mentioned, when Carmel has two excellent bakeries of which she is justly proud.

for writing such. He is merely living up to his belief by SELLING Communist Propaganda, made sweetly palatable by his art, for the greatest amount of money obtainable in a market where it will do the most good. Communist Propaganda by innuendo, implication, by subtly colored comparisons, those are the most favored tricks of a gentry that is garnering many shekels because of misapplied tolerance on the part of the general public.

Magazines are published for but one purpose. To make money for their publishers. A tolerant public enabled the publishers to establish the maxim that, the greater the galaxy of "Big Names" which a magazine can parade before its readers, the greater, and the more certain, the return and profit on the investment.

Editors hold their jobs as long as the reading matter served to their subscribers tends to increase circulation. Editors unable to increase circulation through the readable contents of their magazines lose their jobs. As long as the general public is willing to pay ANY price for reading matter that is Communist Propaganda, no matter under what guise, or how ably presented, just that long will editors, careful of their job, continue to commission Langston Hughes to write subtle defamations of American Womanhood. If the general public would decide to stop drinking poison from golden cups, i.e., stop buying and subscribing to publications that insist on serving up, in a very pleasantly fictionalized form, implied overthrow of our Government by Force, editors would change their tactics and buying habits very quickly. And very quickly self confessed Communists, and "Alleged" Communists as well, would be reduced to hackwriting for Radical publications at starvation rates. "Big Names" on the firmament of authorship so deeply colored "Red" would soon disappear. And it can not be denied that at the present Langston Hughes is not to blame and Langston Hughes is taking advantage of conditions produced by that tolerance. The public must learn to recognize revolutionary teaching when and where presented, no matter how innocuous the method of presentation might be. And then stop further presentations of such vicious, insidious writing by simply withdrawing its financial support.

The other point touched upon by The Carmel Sun, namely free, unhindered social intercourse of the races is a very difficult subject. So difficult for Carmel as to have been in the past, (Langston Hughes is no longer with us) odorous, to say the least. Although Absolute Race Equality is one of the major tenets of Communist Doctrine, yet, Communism has made but insignificant progress among the colored citizens of the United States. Just what the colored people of Carmel (and Pacific Grove too) think of Communism and its race equality agitation was best proven by their action regarding the obnoxious aspirations of Langston Hughes.

Although Langston Hughes has left our hospitable (?) village, his writings will continue to appear in national magazines. At least until such time that those sly offenders against public taste and Americanism are forced to suspend publication because of nondemand.

ARTISTS MAKE POSTERS TO ADVERTISE BALL

It's going to be a gala affair, that Bal Masque to be given by the Carmel Art association at the Del Monte Hotel the 29th of September!

Posters designed by the artists themselves will be used to advertise the affair, which will rival in beauty and splendor that of the old mardi gras in the south.

The nine artists who made the posters took them to the gallery Wednesday morning for judging, and the following prizes were awarded:

William Ritschel, $50; Armin Hansen, $20; Paul Whitman, $15; Boris Muccia, $10, and Dorothy Nix, $5.

The Sun editors had the great pleasure of seeing Mr. Ritschel's poster in his home, and though they were unable to see the others, were not at all surprised that Ritschel's took first place.

Grace and beauty, combined with the gaiety of the bal masque, on an iridescent background showing balloons, pierrots and other insignia of celebrations, comprised the subject. A man in a masque, looking with amused tolerance upon a beautiful young dancer, who seems overcome at his presence — these are the figures. The artist's beautiful young wife posed for the drawing and the scene itself was from memory of earlier days.

Committees from the art association are making it plain that this year's ball is not to be a repetition of last year's orgy, and that beauty will be made the main aim.

STANLEY WOODS GAINS

NEW FAME AS ARTIST

The originals of Stanley Wood's pictures of the Boulder dam activities are now in the office of Secretary Ickes in Washington and will be kept for a permanent record of the project there. This was brought out in an interview with Miss Ann Craton, field representative of the Public Arts program, who spent the week-end here.

Mr. Wood's pictures, she said, have been receiving favorable attention throughout the United States, and through the publicity he received he has been appointed staff artist of the magazine, "Fortune."

Mr. Wood, a watercolorist was also commissioned by the government to go to South Carolina to paint the famous Middleton Gardens, with the azaleas, and from there to Florida to make pictorial records of Florida's beauties.
